

North America service and spare parts for all OEM separators

Local service, global expertise, fast response

Put 150 years of OEM experience to work for you

Whatever the brand of your separator equipment, we put our in-depth knowledge in solid/liquid separation technologies to work for you. With ANDRITZ SEPARATION service and spare parts, you can optimize the process, boost availability, and ensure minimum downtime. Thanks to our specialized field service technicians, we offer you comprehensive support for nearly all brands of separators present on the market.

Your benefits:

- A reliable alternative to the service offered by the Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs)
- A single partner for service and spare parts when you have more than one brand of separators
- Specialized after-market sales support guaranteed by experienced and skilled field service technicians
- Wide network of service centers to support all your needs
- High quality of separator spare parts
- Spare part kits for preventive maintenance programs

Single partner for truly full service

ANDRITZ SEPARATION is a 360° service partner whether you need individual spare parts, spare part kits, local service, repairs, rental machines, upgrades and modernization, or lab testing for your separators from all the main OEMs, like GEA Westfalia, Alfa Laval, KMA, and Pieralisi. Our technicians are specialized in all food and beverage applications and provide you with the best way to minimize downtime and increase your overall production efficiency.

Taking care of your separators

When you work with ANDRITZ SEPARATION you have the guarantee that all spare parts are manufactured with highest quality materials. Regarding the construction and design standards, we maintain compliance with the main (US) regulations: USDA design guidelines, 3-A specifications (TS-21) where mandated, DIN standards, and ISO regulations for dynamic balance compliance, surface finish roughness, and CIP compatibility.
